PMO officials Took Stock of UK Free Trade Pact Last Week

Most of FTA's 26 chapters closed or under advanced talks; mkt access remains sticky issues

Kirtika.Suneja
New Delhi: Amid expectations that the India-UK free trade agreement (FTA) could be signed by March, the Prime Minister's Office last week reviewed the progress of negotiations.
This took place on Friday and was the third time the status of the talks was being assessed at the highest level, said officials. The move is seen as significant as the talks are nearing conclusion. "There was a review of the UK FTA as it is expected that the agreement could get concluded by March," said an official, who didn't want to be identified.
India is headed for general elections in April-May while polls in the UK are to take place by January next year. While most of the 26 chapters of the pact, dealing with the opening up of varied sectors, are either closed or at an advanced stage of negotiations, some issues related to rules of origin and market access remain unresolved.

A UK delegation recently visited India and high-level discussions were held to iron out differences. The sticky issues include business visas, intellectual property rights, rules of origin, duty cuts on Scotch whisky and automobiles, and financial and professional services.

The UK has been adding to its demands but is not keen to yield to India on the issue of business visas, said officials. India wants the UK to issue priority visas to Indian professionals who travel for short-term assignments, something which Britain associates with immigration, a sensitive issue since Brexit. In addition, India wants market access for its textiles and leather at zero customs duty. The UK is seeking a significant cut in import duty on goods such as Scotch whisky, automobiles (including electric vehicles), chocolates and lamb meat besides opportunities for British services in Indian markets in telecommunications and financial services.

Religare Finvest Case: ₹400 cr Diverted to HK via ICDs: ED

Raghav.Ohri @timesgroup.com
New Delhi: A money laundering investigation by the Directorate of Enforcement (ED) into Religare Finvest (RFL) has revealed that ₹400 crore was allegedly diverted to Hong Kong, said people in the know. The case pertains to the alleged embezzlement of ₹2,036.69 crore from RFL in 2014-18.
The agency has charged former Fortis promoters Malvinder and Shivinder Singh and co-accused under provisions of the Prevention of Money Laundering Act (PMLA) and accused them of fund diversion. The brothers have denied any wrongdoing. Four shell companies were allegedly used by the Singh brothers and other co-accused to send the amount to Hong Kong. The PMLA probe has revealed that this was largely in the form of inter-corporate deposits (ICDs). ED has also discovered that ₹750 crore was allegedly diverted to erstwhile Lakshmi Vilas Bank by the Singh brothers and co-accused. A previous investigation launched by the Economic Offences Wing (EOW) of the Delhi Police had found that Lakshmi Vilas Bank officials had, in collusion with the Singhs, deliberately not completed formalities that were mandatory for the loan transaction, in order to benefit the latter, who are promoters of RHC Holding. People in the know also told ET that several other entities allegedly used for the diversion of funds by the Singh brothers are under the agency's scanner. Last month, ED searched premises linked to the Essel Group of companies in connection with its probe into Religare Finvest.
